Top Sales Recorded For Junior Stock Show

Another record year for sales was recorded Saturday night as the auctioneers banged their gavels in the 25th Annual Randall County Junior Livestock Association show.

Local businessmen and residents bid a record $29,077 for steers, lambs and swine at the close of the 1973 stock show.

Last year's sale, a record to that time, netted bids totalling almost $25,000.

"We had a good sale and a good year with good attendance," declared County Agent John Brazzil.

This year's top steer, a 946-pound bald face black steer, shown by James Berry, brought $1.325 per pound on the block for a total of $1253. Last year's grand champion was bid at $949.

Steers this year brought a total of $11,502 in bids compared to last year's total of $7,549.

The grand champion swine, shown by Andy Rahlfs, brought $1.45 per pound on the auction block or a total of $323.35. Last year's grand champion netted $2.40 per pound or $472.

Swine last year had total bid prices of $12,928. This year's total was $11,857.

The top lamb at this year's show, shown by Pam Tucek, brought $3.10 per pound while last year's brought $2.50 per pound. Lamb bids this year totaled $5,718 compared to a total of $3089 last year.

The Farmer Schaeffer Award went this year to Don Sheets from the livestock association.

The American Legion overall showmanship trophy went to Raymond Hunter.

The Wilford Taylor Memorial Scholarship was won by Scottie Keeling.

Supreme Feed Mill presented their premier exhibitor award to Gary Reynolds.

Showmanship trophies, presented by the Farm Bureau, went to Millie Hales in the beef department; David Hinders in the dairy department; Pat Trammell, in the swine department; Pam Tucek in the lamb department; and Martha Johnson in the horse department.

Novice trophies presented by the Kiwanis Club went to Brenda Abbott in beef; Rick Sanford in swine and Debra Hartman, sheep.

The Randall County Sheriff's Posse presented the novice horse trophy to Cody Duncan.

Herdsmen trophies were presented by Spotlite Farms to James Berry for beef; Gary Hinders for dairy; Jim Ward for swine and James Irlbeck for sheep.

Rhonda Hales showed the reserve grand champion steer this year.

Winners in the steer competition:

Beef Heifers — Rhonda Hales, 1, junior yearling; Rod Hales, 1, heifer calves; Brad Hinders, 1, junior calf.

Lightweight steers — Bob Lindsey, 1; Gary Reynolds, 2; Willie Hales, 3; Willie Hales, 4.

Merchants Talk Unity

Eight local merchants sat down together for three hours Monday night and discussed several proposals for promotional efforts which would benefit all merchants in town as a group.

It was the first meeting of the new Canyon Chamber of Commerce merchants committee, a committee formed two weeks ago to attempt to unite merchants in the city.

For years, Canyon has had a Downtown Merchants Association. Recently, an Uptown Merchants Association was formed for businesses on the south portion of 23rd Street.

"We discussed unity and everyone was in agreement that something needs to be started townwide to promote Canyon as a town with merchants from all over the town without yet dissolving any existing groups," said Ken Thompson, local businessman whose idea it was to form the merchants committee.

Thompson told The News Tuesday he feels the initial meeting was a "step in the right direction" in uniting local merchants into a solid unit which is promoting the entire city.

One tangible result of the meeting was a decision to produce a brochure which will list every merchant in Canyon according to category.

"We plan to put a map on it showing the location of every business in town," he said.

Once completed, the brochure will be distributed through local restaurants, motels and service stations.

But, there were some intangible results of the meeting, too, Thompson indicated.

"The main thing is that it is a step in the right direction," he said. "The meeting started off with a lot of doubt about the thing, then as the meeting developed everyone developed a County Judge Woody Pond, right, shakes hands with outgoing County Commissioner Glenn Dowlen during a coffee given Monday morning in Dowlen's honor. The commissioner was given a plaque and several gifts.

Tribute Paid Glenn Dowlen By County

An air of humor and of sadness replaced the cigar smoke Monday morning in the county courtroom as county officials, employees and citizens bid a final farewell to long-time Commissioner Glenn Dowlen.

Dowlen, who retired as county commissioner as of Jan. 1 after 22 years of service, sat at the front of the courtroom with his wife, Cortez, and without his usual cigar.

Meanwhile, more than a hundred well-wishers poured into the courtroom to join with current commissioners in honoring the retiring official.

"We're gathered here today to pay tribute to one of the finest men I've known," began County Judge Woody Pond.

Pond read a resolution passed by the commissioners court in honor of Dowlen. The resolution cites him for services above and beyond his responsibilities and his contributions to good county

County Buys Amarillo Aid For Tax Computer Switch

County commissioners took another major step Monday toward computerizing the county tax office as they agreed to pay $3,000 to the City of Amarillo for certain materials and programs relating to property in south Amarillo.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher reported to the officials on a meeting he and Commissioner John Fulgenzi had with Amarillo City Manager John Stiff concerning the availability of already programmed information on county property in South Amarillo.

The $3,000 will purchase information the City of Amarillo now has on its computer system on all property located in Randall County.

The deal also includes the use by the county of Amarillo identification numbers in the local operation.

Fletcher said the information would prove very valuable and would save Randall County a large sum, which might otherwise have to be spent to update the county tax rolls on property inside the Amarillo city limits.

He said eventually the goal is to use the same 100 per cent valuation on property for the county and city of Amarillo.

He noted that the deal finalized Monday will not include computer updates from the City of Amarillo on new property listings. That, he said, would have to be negotiated later.

"They're really opening the door to their tax office to us," Fletcher said.

He said the Amarillo agreement will provide services for the county "that money can't buy."

Tax office employees are currently working to place identification numbers on all property within the county to facilitate computerization.

Commissioners had agreed earlier to contract with West Texas State University's computer center for computer tax services.

In other business Monday, the commissioners worried about repairs.

County road maintenance supervisor Joe West told the commission that a preliminary study of county roads indicates that as much as $25,000 may be needed to repair damages caused by the winter conditions this year.

School Board Ups Lunch Price, Sets Trustee Election Date

The Canyon School Board, following a lengthy discussion on the operation of the system's cafeterias Tuesday night, voted to increase the price of meals at the junior high school by five cents, bringing the cost up to the fifty cent level charged at the high school.

The board also set a school trustee election for April 7, with voting slated to fill two places on the board being vacated. The terms of Harold Erwin and Richard Pruett will expire this school year. The filing deadline is March 1.

Of the cafeteria operation, Supt. Jerry Jacobs told the board that an increase at the junior high level was needed to insure that the food dispensing operation would operate without a loss this year.

Jacobs said that so far this year, the cafeteria operations at all four system schools were showing a profit of $78.10. This was due to income from the snack bars and vending machines which are located at the high school and junior high school.

According to Jacobs, the snack bar operations and vending machines have contributed some $1,400 to the cafeteria fund, keeping the entire food dispensing operation barely in the black.

The superintendent said because the same size portions were served at both secondary schools, the five cent variance in price was not justified.

The increase in the meal prices will go into effect Feb. 1.

Jacobs told the board that rising costs of food and supplies were making the job of keeping the cafeterias on a break-even basis "doubly tough."

The low percentage of students eating at the high school cafeteria was cited as another problem and the board, along with Jacobs and business manager Ray Schultz, discussed possible remedies. Jacobs said considerable investigation had been done and he mentioned three alternatives.

One was to convert the high school cafeteria into a complete snack bar, another was to prepare meals at the junior high facility and transport the food to the high school, and the other was to operate a "closed campus."

Of the alternatives discussed, the conversion of the cafeteria into a complete snack bar seemed to generate the most interest. It was brought out by several members that problems would arise in transporting the food from one school to the other, and none showed interest in closing the campus to prevent students going elsewhere to eat.

Schultz said the prices of snack bar items would be reviewed and possibly changed to bring them in line with prices around town.

Student Files Suit Against Schools' Insurance Company

A former Canyon High School student now attending West Texas State University has filed suit against the Dallas insurance firm which handles all school children insurance in Canyon's schools.

The suit seeks more than $2,000 plus attorney fees of the United Fidelity Life Insurance Co. of Dallas.

United Fidelity Life Insurance Co. handles the group accident insurance policy for Canyon school children who enroll under the program.

Anna Jaycene Bellah and her mother, Fern Bellah, filed the suit Tuesday in district court here.

The suit contends that Miss Bellah was injured during the 1971-72 school year and the insurance company has failed to pay the pursuant hospital and doctor bills.

The suit alleges that a leaflet given school students who take the insurance program states that the company will pay usual and regular charges for all medical or surgical treatment or services resulting from an accidental injury.

After August 1971, the suit says, Miss Bellah sustained an accidental injury to her right eye while rehearsing for a musical production at Canyon High School. The accident resulted in the detachment of the retina of the eye.

In early May 1972, Miss Bellah underwent a surgical operation to reattach the retina. In January this year she returned to the hospital to undergo more surgery in connection with the injury.

The plaintiffs allege that even though Miss Bellah sustained the detached retina, she was unaware of the extent of the injury until she sought medical aid in April 1972.

"The plaintiffs were not experienced in medical matters, and had no way of knowing that the minor plaintiff was in need of immediate medical attention as soon as the injury occurred," the suit says. "The operation to reattach the retina to the eye was necessary immediately following the accidental injury of January

Felix Pierce Files For Re-election

Incumbent City Commissioner Felix Pierce filed for re-election to that body Monday.

Pierce seeks election to his fourth term on the commission. A retired Mobil Oil Corporation commission agent in this area, Pierce first ran for the commission and was elected in 1966.

Currently, only one other resident has filed for election to the commission. Dr. J. Pat Stephens, a government professor at West Texas State University, has filed to face Pierce on the ballot for a place on the city's governing body.

"People have been calling me to see when and if I was going to announce," Pierce said. "People have been nice to me and if they wanted me to run again then I thought I'd do it."

Pierce said he sees no major issues involved in the campaign.

"I'm just putting my name on the ballot and if the people want me to serve again I'll do it," he said.

The commissioner retired

Secret Committee Meets

Three members of a committee to select candidates for president of West Texas State University met in Amarillo just before Christmas with three members of the board of regents and were informally told to narrow the field to 10.

Committee members attending the meeting were Wayne Rankin, Plainview, president of the Ex-Students Association; Pat Malone, Hereford First National Bank executive; and Bill Montgomery, Amarillo, Shamrock Oil Corporation executive.

Three board members present were Cloyce K. Box, chairman; and Jim Jenkins of Amarillo and B. Raymond Evans of Tulia.

There was no representation from the WTSU campus although there have been reports that Dr. John Green, dean of the WTSU School of Fine Arts; Jerry Miller, head of the faculty council; and Bob Lee, president of the WTSU student body, have been tapped to serve.

Rankin Tuesday said he understands that application forms have been sent out to several possible candidates on a number of campuses.

He said it was his understanding that the field would be narrowed to about 10 by the screening committee.

Dr. Bill Miller, now a professor of education at North Texas State University, has been mentioned widely as a possible successor to Dr. James P. Cornette who is about to retire as WTSU president.

Rankin said it is his feeling that the search for a new president is open at this point.

The new president of West Texas State is expected to be on campus in some capacity by the time school begins next autumn.

Council Rehires Judge Hampton

After hearing and lauding a report on the Municipal Court operation, the Canyon City Commission went into executive session Monday night and reappointed Judge Harris Hampton to a full-year term.

In the closed-door session, the commission also discussed the possible acquisition of land.

While giving a report on the city court and its operation, Judge Hampton told of several changes made during the past six months in an effort to upgrade justice for both the defendant and the prosecution.

According to Hampton, the court has brought about legal complaints which were not used in the past. He said the new forms had been adapted to the city with only one incident of difficulty.

That one time, said Hampton, was when a woman driver had been cited for failing to stop at a crosswalk. "We don't have crosswalks in Canyon and the case was dismissed," he said.

Because of the more modern operation of the court, the commission was told that policemen are now doing a better job of making official complaints and keeping better records for use if and when a case comes to trial. "This causes our policemen to do a better job. They have to present a firm case in court," said Hampton.

Businesswoman, Coach File For School Board Places

A Canyon businesswoman and a West Texas State University instructor filed Wednesday morning to seek election to the board of the Canyon Independent School District.

Two places are open in the election to the school board. Terms of Richard Pruett and Harold Erwin expire this year.

School Board members called the election for April 7 during a meeting Tuesday night.

Mrs. Pauline Hefley, who will make her third attempt to gain a seat on the board this year, filed in the school superintendent's office.

David Kent, tennis coach at WTSU, also filed.

Mrs. Hefley sought election to the board several years ago and lost a place by 78 votes. A year later she tried again and lost by 150 votes.

"The reason I am a candidate for the Canyon Independent School Board of Trustees is that I feel a real urgency for the people in the Canyon school district to be represented effectively and I believe I possess those capabilities," she said. "I further believe that it is not only significant, but imperative for a woman's viewpoint to be injected into this board and its deliberations.

"I have many years of business experience and have been a patron of the Canyon schools for nine years. If I am elected to the board of trustees, I shall consider it a real privilege and opportunity to serve in this capacity."

Mrs. Hefley has been an agent for Southland Life Insurance for six years. Late in 1972 she and her family moved from their home north of Canyon to Canyon itself.

She is a past president of the Gene Howe Parent-Teachers Association.

Mrs. Hefley has served on the board of directors of the women's division of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and is on

Funds Sought For Pamphlet

The Texas Criminal Justice Council was asked last week to consider funding a proposal made by a West Texas State University professor to compile a citizens guide to county government in Texas.

C. L. Abernathy of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission carried the funding request to the council in Austin last week from Dr. Walter Shelly, professor of government at WTSU.

No word on the funding request has been received at midweek, but Abernathy said the

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The name of Dr. Bill Miller has been widely circulated as a possible successor to Dr. James P. Cornette as president of West Texas State University.

Dr. Miller has a lot of things going for him not the least of which are his close ties with Cloyce K. Box, chairman of the WTSU board of regents.

Though a native of Trinidad, Colo., Dr. Miller grew up in Canyon and is a graduate of both Canyon High School and WTSU. He is the son of Coach Gus Miller, one of the most popular mentors in Buffalo history.

As a matter of fact, the Box twins, Cloyce and Boyce, were proteges of Coach Miller. Cloyce recounted only recently in a talk here when he was honored by the ex-students association that Coach Miller took him and his brother "out of the cotton patch" and brought them to West Texas State.

Dr. Miller and Cloyce Box were teammates on the WTSU basketball team in 1947 and 1948.

Presently Dr. Miller is professor of education at North Texas State University in Denton. His career — from schoolboy days to the present — has been marked with association with athletics.

He was graduated from WTSU in 1949 with a BS Degree and received a Master of Education here in 1951. He was awarded the doctorate of education at Texas Tech in 1957 and has done post doctoral work at Ohio State University.

He spent 33 months in the US Air Corps and served as basketball coach and base athletic officer at Amarillo Air Force Base.

He was head coach at Dalhart High School and then was assistant basketball coach at Tech in 1953-54 while working on his doctorate.

Dr. Miller was an elementary school principal at Borger in 1958 and the following year was made junior high school principal.

He taught at McMurry in Abilene in 1960 and then was chairman of the division of education there from 1961 through 1964. He went to North Texas State University in 1964.

In 1970 Dr. Miller was president of the Missouri Valley Conference and was instrumental in getting his alma mater into the MVC. He currently is chairman of the NTSU Athletic Committee. He once served as NCAA representative to the Basketball Federation of the USA. He played basketball for the Buffaloes from 1946 through 1949.

There had been talk in Canyon, especially on the university campus, that Dr. Miller had already been chosen as the next president of WTSU with the actual announcement to come as a mere formality.

Wayne Rankin of Plainview, member of a committee to screen candidates for the WTSU top post, said he thinks the job is still wide open.

He said Tuesday the committee had been instructed to narrow the field of candidates to 10 with the board of regents to make the final decision.

Texas Trends reports the Graham Purcells, especially Mrs. Purcell, as being extremely bitter over Graham's overwhelming defeat by Congressman Bob Price.

Conservative US News & World Report has some startling figures on the soaring cost of health care in this country.

Says US News: Since 1960, the cost of a day in the hospital has gone up 204 percent to an average of $92 and running 50 percent higher in large cities.

Physicians fees are up 74 percent over the same span.

Senator Edward Kennedy proposes cradle-to-grave health coverage financed by the federal government.

The picture painted by US News, although grim, is not entirely fair. It does not point out the many additional facilities — all expensive — that have become available in large hospital during the past decade.

Also highly trained nurses formerly were paid on almost the same basis as relatively unskilled labor. In most places their salaries now are at least near the scale of a private secretary.

Hospital workers are now under minimum wage with the prospect of this jumping to $2 an hour.

Naturally, these factors add up to a bigger hospital bill.

New Industry's Sales Reps Here

Fassauer Industries, one of Canyon's newest industries, had its first national sales meeting last week, according to A. L. "Bud" Fassauer, president.

Sales representatives from as far away as California, North Carolina, New York and Pennsylvania attended the meeting.

At the meeting, a complete national advertising campaign in six publications was outlined to introduce the firm and its products.

Board Eyes Hospital Plans

Board members of the South Randall County Hospital District don't have architectural drawings of a proposed new hospital completed yet, but they spent most of their meeting time Monday night discussing flooring materials and other equipment.

The board debated the various merits of tile, terrazo and carpet in floor material for the new hospital, which they hope will get under construction this spring.

Administrator Ray Grimes said final drawings should be completed by the hospital architect soon and the big decisions the board must face in the immediate future are decisions involving equipment and materials to be used in construction.

"It's hard to judge how fast we're progressing," Grimes said. "But, soon we'll reach the point where we've got to make some critical decisions on the way the building will be finished."

Grimes noted that the decisions will be important because by choice of materials, the board will by-and-large determine the costs of construction of the hospital.

He said the building should include materials which are relatively easy to maintain.

"We should also do things to save labor," he said. "Your yearly operating budget will equal the cost of the building every two or three years. So, if we can save five or 10 per cent on expenses each year we can pay for the building."

Grimes stressed that the building should be as flexible as possible to allow for future changes in hospital care trends.

He discussed one particular piece of equipment which he said would give great flexibility to the hospital — a light, electricity, oxygen rig which supplies these needed commidities to a room from a single self-contained unit.

Board members also reviewed an audit of their fiscal operations ending Sept. 30, 1972.

Grimes said the district has received $81,620 in taxes so far. That represents October tax collections by the county tax office for the district.

Registration Today At WT

Students at West Texas State University returned to the campus this week in preparation for registration today and Friday for spring semester classes.

University officials aren't speculating on the number of students who will sign up with the university this spring.

Enrollment dropped significantly last fall and with normal attrition, officials expect spring enrollment to be even lower.

University regents lowered part-time student fees last fall in an effort to attract more area residents to the school.

And, officials at WTSU have been stirring a potful of recruiting ideas in further efforts to increase enrollment.

Most say, though, that recruiting efforts won't begin to pay off until next fall at the earliest.

Registration at the University begins today and continues through Friday. Late student and night school registration is Saturday.

First classes of the spring term meet Monday.

Two Clerks Plan To Attend Meet

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton and District Clerk LaQuitta Polvadore said this week they plan, if it meets with county commission approval, to attend the first annual County and District Clerks Conference in mid-February at Texas A&M University.

This two-point effort by Eagle Andy Cooper helped Canyon ease past Dumas 57-54 in a hard fought battle Tuesday night. The victory marked the Eagles entry into district competition for the year. The girl Eagles will begin district play Friday night when both varsity teams travel to Muleshoe.

NCAA Rule Changes Please Mayfield

West Texas State University's athletic director and head football coach was well pleased with the legislation which came out of last week's National Collegiate Athletic Association meetings in Chicago.

Mayfield, along with West Texas State's faculty representative to the NCAA and the Missouri Valley Conference Jack Edmondson, attended the week-long session.

Three major rule changes were passed at the convention and they were as follows: (1) Athletic scholarships will be granted on a one-year basis only, rather than on a four-year basis as in the past; (2) A limitation has been placed on the total number of scholarships to be given by NCAA schools in both football and basketball; (3) The rule which required students to predict a 1.6 grade average on a 4-point system coming out of high school was changed to allow scholarships to be granted to students coming out of high school with C grade averages.

A proposal which would have required colleges to issue athletic scholarships to students on a financial need basis only was voted down.

The new rule on a limit of scholarships for football and basketball allows 30 new scholarships to be granted in football each year and six to be granted in basketball. After a four-year period, at which time the entire rule will be in effect, football may have 75 returning players and grant 30 new scholarships for a total of 105. Basketball may have 12 returning players and give six new scholarships for a total of 18.

"The limit on scholarships will certainly aid West Texas State," said Mayfield. "I can think of no situation where that rule will not help us. When you consider that the eight Southwest Conference football schools and the Big Eight Conference schools closest to us (Oklahoma and Oklahoma State) are presently giving around 45 scholarships each year, that frees about 150 more athletes at once from those 10 schools who can play football."

Mayfield is awaiting word from the NCAA as to the exact date the 30-scholarship rule will go into effect. It is written into the new rule that the effective date is August 1, 1973.

"When I left Chicago I was of the feeling that the rule would be in effect during this recruiting season," he said. "But after thinking about it for awhile, I realized that some schools, such as the colleges on the east coast, have already started signing football players. Some of those schools may have already signed over 30 players."

Mayfield said the intent of the new rules is not to punish any athletes currently enrolled in NCAA colleges. All four-year scholarship agreements are still in effect and it will be four years until schools must be down to 75 limit on returning players for football and 12 for basketball.

"The 1.6 rule, in effect, punished a student for being an athlete," said the Buffalo head coach. "A student out of high school with a C average is usually capable of completing work on a college degree."

Services Fri. For Mr. Heare

A former regent of West Texas State University and president of the WTSU Foundation, Clayton Heare, 75, was dead on arrival Tuesday at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

A longtime Amarillo attorney, Mr. Heare had been a member of the board of regents of the Texas State Teachers College, under which control came WTSU. He was president of the WTSU Foundation in 1966.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the First Presbyterian Church in Amarillo with Dr. James R. Carroll, pastor, officiating.

The body will then be taken to Miami, Tex., for graveside services and burial at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Arrangements are by Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Directors.

Mr. Heare is survived by his wife, a daughter, a sister and three grandchildren.

Park Employee Gets Training

The official State Health Department's certificate of competency for ecology workers has been awarded to Mike R. Parsons of Canyon.

Parsons works for Palo Duro Canyon State Park. As an ecology worker, he has been taught effective ways for producing safe drinking water and treatments to make wastewater into clean streams for public use.

This training was from the Texas Water Utilities Association. To receive the certificate, he has completed both a formal and a specialized education, accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience, and passed the examination given by the State Health Department's Sanitary Engineers.

Dr. Oltjen Opens Vet Practice Here

Canyon has a new veterinarian who will engage in general practice from an office located at 405 14th St.

He is Dr. Allan C. Oltjen, a native of Kansas and a graduate of Kansas State University at Manhattan. He received his D.V.M. in 1971.

Dr. Oltjen, his wife Suzanne and children Traci and Bret, moved to Canyon from Clovis where he was an associate in practice.

At present, Dr. Oltjen is busy furnishing and straightening his office. He said he would treat all animals, from small pets to the larger farm animals.

According to Dr. Oltjen, he and his wife "liked the town of Canyon" and after investigation, thought they could perform a service here.

Mrs. Oltjen enjoys ceremics which she began as a hobby while in Clovis, said Dr. Oltjen. "And she likes to sew," he added.

Traci is seven years old and is a second grade student at Rex Reeves Elementary School. Bret is three years old.

Dr. Oltjen described himself as "a golf duffer," and said he enjoyed handball. "It's a good conditioner sport and a vet needs to be in good shape," he said.

The doctor said he grew up on a farm and played football and ran on the track team while in high school.

The Oltjens reside at 1219 4th Ave.

Dr. Allan C. Oltjen, Canyon's new veterinarian, putting supplies in cabinets at his office located at 405 14th St. Dr. Oltjen is a native of Kansas and came to Canyon from Clovis where he was in practice.

Boy Eagles Take Dist. Opener

After jumping out to an early first quarter lead Tuesday night, the Eagles fell behind Dumas and then had to fight during the final quarter for a come-from-behind 57-54 district win.

Leading 16-8 at the end of the first quarter, the Eagles faltered during the second period and at halftime trailed the Demons by three points, 28-25.

During the third period, the two teams matched each other point for point and ended up with a 42-39 score before going into the final round.

In that final period, the Eagles got back into contention by aggressive play and by making few mistakes. Midway into the fourth quarter, the score was nip and tuck and tied several times.

Wayne Pitt led the Canyon five with 17 points, Gary Don Byars scored 15 and Andy Cooper rounded out double figure scorerers with 10. Gary Gerber dunked in eight points and Bill Moore chalked up seven.

The Eagles hit 26 of 63 field shots for a percentage of 41, and from the foul line were five of 11 for 45 percent.

In the rebound department, the offense and defense each picked 11 off the boards. Turnovers were held to eight, one of the lowest of the season for the Eagles.

Coach B. B. Kendrick said he believed the team got ahead and then relaxed. "We had a tough time pulling it out," he commented.

The coach said his boys played badly during the second period but came back strong in the third and fourth periods. "In the final quarter they played as aggressively as they have all year," said Kendrick. He added that while the Eagles got a good number of turnovers, they failed to make the shots that could have taken some of the pressure off.

The coach said that it "helped to be behind and to come back." He said the team had been able to do that during recent games.

Kendrick called the win a "sweet victory," explaining that Dumas had been ranked higher than the Eagles despite the Eagles having a better record and having beaten teams that had won over Dumas.

The Eagles now possess a 10-12 season record and are 1-0 in the district.

The team travels to Muleshoe Friday night for their second league game of the season.

Auditions Set For "TEXAS"

Auditions for singers, dancers and actors who want to join the 1973 company of "TEXAS," the musical-drama staged during summer months in Palo Duro Canyon, will be held in Canyon Saturday.

Auditions site will be at the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State University.

Minimum age for members of the stage company is 18.

According to show officials, directors of the production will be looking for command of stage, a voice that can be heard outdoors, actors who understand character motivation and who can convey a variety of emotion.

Actors must be prepared to give a memorized reading not to exceed three minutes. They must also audition as singers.

Dancers should bring appropriate work-out clothing.

Singers should bring one prepared number and must be prepared to present a short memorized selection to display the quality of speaking voice.

This year's "TEXAS" begins June 21 and continues through Aug. 25.

Buffs Host Loyola Today In Amarillo

West Texas State University's Buffaloes take a one-game break from the Missouri Valley Conference basketball race to host Loyola University of Los Angeles at 7:30 p.m. today in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

The Buffaloes of coach Dennis Walling played their first MVC game in history last week and edged Bradley's Braves, 104-101, in an overtime contest.

West Texas fell 91-79 to Drake's veteran Bulldogs Saturday afternoon in a televised Valley game to even its record at 1-1 against conference opponents. The Buffs jump back into MVC play Saturday at Tulsa against the Golden Hurricane.

Loyola will bring a high-scoring team into the Civic Center and one which has faced some of the nation's stronger teams. Loyola was 4-8 for the season, entering Tuesday's game in Los Angeles against California State of Northridge.

The Loyola Lions of coach Richard Baker opened the season by losing all four games on a rugged road trip. They fell 83-69 to Southern California, 75-70 to Utah, 87-74 to Weber State and 88-67 to San Diego State. Another loss was a 105-77 beating handed out by nationally ranked Long Beach State.

Leading Loyola in scoring is 6-8, 220-pound senior Steve Smith, who is scoring 23.4 points per game for the season and pulling 13.4 rebounds. Guard Luther Philyaw, a 6-1 freshman from Los Angeles, has an 11.4 scoring mark and 6-5 sophomore Brad Dean is scoring 10.2 points per game.

The Buffaloes got 20-point-plus scoring from three individuals in Thursday's win over Bradley, which was the first conference game the West Texas State basketballers have played since the school was voted into membership in June of 1970. Tommy Jordan led the scoring with 26 points, followed by Reginald Ramey and Jerry Christian with 23 each.

Ramey led the way against Drake as the Bulldogs pulled away from the Buffaloes in the second half of play. The 6-8 freshman from Philadelphia scored 29 points and pushed his scoring mark for the year to 18.2. Jordan, who was held to 12 points against Drake, has a 19.4 scoring mark to lead the team. Christian is scoring 15.2 points per game for the season.

Assault Charges Filed Against 6

Six men were jailed here Sunday following a mid-afternoon affray involving a north Canyon service station operator and members of his family.

The six pleaded guilty to the assault charges Monday before Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson.

Sheriff's Deputy Recil Johnson said the incident occurred during mid-afternoon Sunday when the six men drove into a service station operated by B. C. Taylor.

An argument ensued and one of the men assaulted Taylor and one of Taylor's employees.

Sympathy To Mrs. Parker-- Molls Celebrate Anniversary

By MILDRED TURNER

DURING THE RECENT weather I did not get my column in. One I did manage to get mailed in. We were snowed in eight days except for chains and jeeps, so will try to bring you up to date from that period. I write on Monday a.m., so if you have any news, call, and I can insert or add on. I send it in early Tuesday morning.

EARLY MONDAY, JAN. 15 I received word that our friend and neighbor Jack Parker had passed on during the night. We have known Jack and Irene about twenty-three years, attending church together, visiting often. They knew and loved both my parents and Garland's. I was thinking, after receiving this word, that many of the families out here have known each other over twenty years. Many times we've played games or hiked around this canyon these ten years. We have called on each other to pray or for help in times of sickness or problems. Jack and Irene had sold their home (their huge yard had become a burden) and have lived on S. Western for several months. Not long ago Jack and Irene were in church, though he looked pale and weak. As I received word of his going, I turned to Hebrews 11 for comfort. That was the scripture I first thought of. When little Lulu (our granddaughter who had spent the night) asked what was the matter, I explained the best I could that the Lord had taken Jack to be with Him. She replied simply, "He was daddy's buddy." I think she just about summed up the feelings of everyone in this canyon. Jack was our fellow Christian, friend, and buddy.

IRENE, FOR YOUR sake as well as many who could not attend the Moll's wedding anniversary celebration recently, it was beautiful. The women wore long dresses. There were lots of pictures taken. On a large valentine bulletin were pictures of them at various places when they were young. There were speeches from all departments in the church. Not elaborate, but in simple sincere words of how we felt about the Molls. Jane Sides, who spoke in behalf of the women of the church asked me to write a poem for the Molls, which I did:

The Molls

Holding hands. . .they vowed that they "cared a lot"
So this young couple went out and tied the "knot."
Their love was not mushy, gushy or showy
But in each glance, each touch, an expression of knowing.

Each day they tried to please one another. . .
As down life's path they dined and danced with each other.
One day she asked, "Honey, would you go to church with me?"
"I don't want to, but just for you, I will go," said he.

Their hearts and their home were filled with God's love.
And through life's storms and tests there was guidance from above.
As hand in hand across the land they began to preach.
And across the waves, many souls they did reach.

As good shepherds, through the years, they cared for their sheep.
At all hours they heard calls or the tiniest bleat;
Heaped upon them have been
our burdens and care,
With great wisdom and compassion they've been taken in prayer.

Now. . . forty years later, and still side by side,
Their love has multiplied, intensified. One cannot define
The faith, the trust, the love in that "knot"
When, long ago holding hands they vowed that "they cared a lot."

Mildred Turner

THE MOLLS RECEIVED gifts from all over the states including Hawaii. Gift from the church was a silver coffee and tea set. Bro. Cassidy and Bro. Starkey performed the ceremony. The Molls leave for a trip to Hawaii in about a week.

IRENE, I THINK of you and Jack as going through life together, holding hands, doing good, bringing cheer and comfort to others. Although we may not always understand God's plan for our lives, without questions, we accept and "we know that all things work together for good to those who love the Lord."

ELIZABETH MCGAHEY IS recovering nicely from her recent surgery and will be home before long.

THE BOOTHE FAMILY have been ill but are doing fine now according to Dwight.

KATHY STRECKER IS back in school after being sick.

JERRY CARLILE, SON of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carlile is stationed at Lubbock presently. He is a medical assistant in the hospital there.

PROJECTS AROUND THE house during the recent snow included lots of crocheting and embroidering: Joyce McDonald has embroidered the cutest little clowns which she has appliqued on a baby quilt, Judy Webb is busy crocheting a lovely rainbow colored baby shawl, Myrtle Forster has crocheted Robbie two pretty sweaters, colorful afghans, besides the attractive coat already mentioned. The young and very young are also crocheting. Brenda Oliver has crocheted three purses (at last count); Rhonda Webb, three purses; Janet Turner is doing a scarf and hat set; Sheree Turner, a hat for her poodle and a long thing (just for practice — she doesn't know what it is yet); Cathy Webb (age 10) a long chain from the den down the hall. I wish all of you would drop by and see Judy and Joyce's hair pin lace afghans.

THAT WHITE FLUFFY weekend two cars of young people got stranded out here.

ON SATURDAY NIGHT we played games until wee hours. Garland slept down stairs with the guys and the girls and I slept upstairs. Sunday morning, while I was making bacon and pancakes, some were reading their Bibles while others were getting ready for church. At eleven we gathered around the piano and sang. Jerry Mullins (about 16) brought the message "Waiting on the Lord," giving reasons, examples and results. Hosea 12:6: Therefore turn thou to God keep mercy and judgment and "wait on the Lord." He also used several scriptures in Isaiah and Psalms. Kerry Kirkwood brought out a thought, found in James, about being not only a hearer, but a doer of the word of God. The service was informal but real good.

THOSE SLEDDING IN the afternoon were: Rodney Thompson, Kenny Seitz, Mike and Stan Hooker, Ricky Jackson, Kenny Tate, the Roots and a pickup load of their friends, Judy, Rhonda, Cathy, Julie and Laura Webb, Jerry Don and Danny Joe Mullins, Sherri Sinclair, Kerry Kirkwood, Janet, Sheree and Belva Turner. Others were out walking, snowballing, and jeep riding. Rickey Jackson and Kenny Tate helped get our young people up the hill.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS have slowed to a dribble as everyone is caught up in the new year routine. Two people have vowed they would quit smoking, one has succeeded and another has slowed down.

SEE U NEXT week.

Mescalero Park News

Club Welcomes Mrs. Clements

By TOOTIE BYBEE

WELL, THAT OLE sun just finally did its bit for the survival of man (and woman) and broke through the clouds and decided to shine a few days and give us all a rest from "white magic" and cabin fever. Soon all traces of that white stuff will be gone, unless we have another snow come through. I hope not. Bout this time I get a terrible longing for the Spring and planting seeds and growing things. Just think how long I have to go yet before Spring. Maybe I'll buy an ivy plant for the house!!

THE THURSDAY CLUB got back into the swing of things after the holidays. Only some of the gals didn't swing too well. Seems we had more out sick than were able to muster up the courage to brave the weather for a friendly day together. There were 4 or 5 there, including Mariam Clements, who we all are very glad to welcome and hope she comes regularly. The other ladies told me all about her and will share a little of it with our other friends and neighbors. Mr. Clements, who, would you believe, is another Sam, is in the insurance business in Amarillo. Mariam is a school teacher, but not teaching at this time. Son Sam Rogers is 16 and attends Canyon Senior High and daughter Barbie Rogers is 10 and goes to Gene Howe where she is in the fifth grade. Mariam said she enjoyed being a housewife but would like to teach again as she is getting kinda bored being home all day. That happens to a lot of former teachers! I don't know what all their hobbies are but one is riding their beautiful horses. Those are the lovliest animals. The special way they walk and hold those tails is just beautiful. We always enjoy watching them as they go by the house. They can walk across my yard any day!! Anyway a belated welcome from all of us to you.

HOPE THIS FINDS Joyce and baby Marcie Min back on the healthy list. They've both been down with a touch of the flu. Hope Matt Malson is better, and please stay that way.

THE CAMP FIRE Girls had cooking lessons again this week. After finding the right place and a stuck bus, everything turned out fine. The cooking leaders this week were Kay Tow and Lenise Bybee who cooked blackberry cobbler and carrot salad. We want to remind you that the paper drive will be finished this next week. If you have saved papers for the girls to take to the re-cycle plant, please give me a call within the week and we will get them picked up and delivered to the right spot, and thanks for your help so very much. Also, to mothers of the last year Blue Birds. If you still have your daughter's Blue Bird costume and are not planning on using it or saving it, I would gladly take it off your hands for an underprivileged group of girls who need them. Just let me know, any or all of the costume would be helpful. Oh, yes the girls elected new officers for the coming quarter: president, Jeanette Ellis; vice president, Shelley Whitehead; secretary, April Howard; treasurer, Traca Cooper; hostesses, Leslie Bybee and Kay Tow; phone chairmen, Stormie Moreland and Lenise Bybee; flag bearer, Tracy Gillis.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Miss Tammy Thompson on her 12th year of life. Those helping her to celebrate with a slumber-in were Carol Chesten, Becky Biddy, Mary Bustermoni, Tammara Boeing, Fonda Holland and Leslie Bybee. Games were enjoyed by all along with several varieties of food.

THE ECOLOGY CLUB is busy making different handmade items out of recyclable items such as cans, jars, egg cartons, etc., which they will try to sell here in the neighborhood to raise some money for their treasury. So when they come around you might keep that in mind.

DIDN'T HAVE AN opportunity to say goodbye to the Lairds before they moved so want to say it now and how much we enjoyed having you as neighbors. Hope to see something of those girls around here now. Don't just forget us all.

IF YOU SHOULD just happen to miss "Herbie" you can mourn with me. He was replaced in favor of more room and better looks and the ability to carry at least 10 to 12 girls at a time. We now have a new station wagon and it will be lovingly known only as the "Green Hornet" and little "Herbie" will just be a page in our life.

WELL WE'LL SEE you around somewhere. To all those who wonder why I don't put something about YOU in this column, it's because you didn't tell me anything to put in here. I'm waiting. 622-1471.

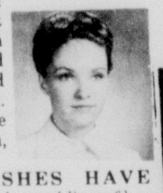
Holts Give Football Party -- Cates Lend Hand At Scout Banquet

By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

TOL' YOU THE sun would shine again, and sure enough it did! Old Sol came out to play, along with our youngsters and all those brand new, little-used bikes.

WITH THE HELP of her friends, Cindy Todd welcomed her birthday a few days early. Splashing good fun was had at the Aquatic Club with a swim party last Saturday. Approximately 25 friends joined in with the dunking and eating of the goodies. Cindy didn't really become twelve years of age until the 13th, and a family celebration was held this happy day, complete with cake and dinner out at the Big Texan with mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Todd. Many more happies to you, Cindy.



THE NASHES HAVE returned from the wedding of her niece, Patti Creem held recently in Arlington. Daughter Susan was a bridesmaid, and she and brother Tim flew down early for some pre-nuptial parties and rehearsal activities. James and Doris drove down later. Patti was married to Joe Lutz in a lovely church ceremony. The reception was held at the church with a groom's chocolate cake accompanying the bride's cake. Following the wedding, the Nashes drove to Olney, which just happens to be Susan's birthplace, and spent the night with James' sister, Robena Hawkins, before returning to Big A. Robena had spent the Christmas holidays here with the Nashes, and they enjoyed seeing each other again.

A VERY HAPPY birthday to Randy Langen who celebrates on the 18th and to Philip Langen, who picked the 19th to make his presence known to the world. Randy and Philip are the son and husband, respectively, of Jerrie Langen, a fourth grade teacher at Gene Howe. Happies to both these handsome gentlemen.

THOSE LOVELY GRESHAM girls have recently returned from a fun trip to Colorado. Janice and her daughters, Wendy, Melissa and Robin, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Hazel. Along with parental pampering, they enjoyed snowmobiling and visiting. Janice's folks belong to a snowmobile club in Colorado Springs, and they had a grand time playing in the winter wonderland. (Janice still prefers her motorcycle, tho).

HELLO OUT THERE to Cindy Johnson — a happy birthday to you on the 20th. May all your wishes come true.

MR. AND MRS. Ronnie Holt held a football party in their home last Sunday afternoon. Friends and neighbors were invited in to partake of some goodies and to view the last (yes, the very last) football game of the season. Redskin fans were invited to pick their choice of vantage points anywhere on the floor they desired. Miami fans not only were entitled to sit in real chairs but were given first choice of the chips and dips and sandwiches. Pretty obvious which team the Holts were rooting for, wouldn't you say. Lots of neighborly fun and companionship mixed in with some good-natured jesting.

BILL AND CHARLENE Moore and youngsters have regretfully returned from a week's visit with both their parents in Fort Worth. Regretfully we say because it is not very often we grownups get to be indulged in by two sets of parents at the same time. Her mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Boyd, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Moore, did the honors this time around. They also were glad to become acquainted with a new niece, namely, Jennifer Boyd, daughter of Deadra and Kenneth Boyd. When Jennifer was born, she weighed in at one pound and ten ounces. She is now up to a grand total of nine pounds. Even though Jennifer is now four months old, Charlene says she "feels" like a new-born. Back home for the Moores to some wall-papering and carpet making. Charlene and Bill have made several rugs for their home using carpet scraps and lots of imagination. Sounds like fun. Work, but fun.

A VERY HAPPY to Betty Dozier, who birthdays on the 21st. The 21st does not indicate her age — just the day of her birth. All kidding aside, happy day to you, Betty.

SHERRIE AND ROY Cates are extra-specially happy these days. They received a call from son Nobie last Sunday from San Francisco. Nobie is back in the states and will be home on leave "sometime soon." Sure hope his Christmas package, containing four fruitcakes and other assorted eatables, catches up with him pretty soon.

SHERRIE IS ALSO glad that that annual Llano Estacado Council banquet is history. Approximately 250 people were in attendance to admire the table decorations Sherrie had made. Same consisting of about 26 "Swiss Cheese" candles she poured using Scouting colors. She filled one-half gallon milk cartons (minus the milk, of course) about three-fourths full of big chips of ice. The colored and melted wax is poured to a depth of approximately three-fourths full. The wax is allowed to set up and then the carton is peeled away. She used old used candles in the centers rather than candle wicking. This way the candles burned longer, and those thrifty and ingenious Scout ladies are already making plans to put the "leftovers" to good use. The candles were done in olive, red, blue, yellow and green and were quite pretty and impressive. Sherrie also made about 130 little Scout figures using fuzzy chenille. These little dolls were twisted into various positions and scattered up and down the tables. Some held tiny signs bearing various Scout mottos, and some were climbing in and out of the candles.

THE HEAD TABLE and Eagle Scout table were additionally adorned with golden eagles Sherrie poured with plaster of paris and painted. Approximately 30 area Scouts who had attained Eagle rank during 1972 were recognized at the dinner, held at Caprock High School, and were presented certificates and Eagle neckerchiefs.

A HIGHLIGHT OF the banquet for Sherrie (aside from getting all those decorations down there and in place) was the honor of presenting the Silver Fawn award to two area ladies, Mrs. Maxine Stevenson of Dumas and Mrs. Gaynelle Riffe of Stratford. The Silver Fawn award is presented to women in Scouting in recognition of outstanding service, not only in Scouting, but outstanding service to the community. Sherrie received this honor last year, being the first woman in the Llano Estacado Council to be so honored.

CHARLES PURCELL OF Arden Road, a volunteer scoutworker, served as chairman of the banquet arrangements committee. When querried on what the duties of chairman were, Mr. Purcell related he held the theory that the chairman was the one who drew the short straw and simply meant that he was to lean on everyone else to get the work done. So, he did. All teasing aside, Mr. Purcell is an avid supporter of Scout work and contributes immeasurably to the goals and various projects sponsored by the Council, having served this past year as a commissioner. He is also taking on chairmanship of the camping activities project this year. This writing lists only a few of his many contributions. Thank you Charlie.

IT IS A fact of life that at least once a year each of us must admit to getting a wee bit older. That time has come for our Fearless Leader. When you awake Saturday morn, tee hee and gloat a smite if your heart desires, but also wish a very happy to Mr. Lawless. Many more, kind sir.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL words overheard last Sunday were "This is our last broadcast of the season." Referring, at last, to the Telly's version of the football season, of course. Wives, reintroduce yourselves to your husbands; and, if you harbor even the slightest hint of malice, hand yours the ol' income tax return. That ought to bring them back to reality in a flash.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall.

Slaton Nips Girl Eagles

The girl Eagles Tuesday night dropped a six-point decision to Slaton, a team they had defeated three times during the early part of the season. The score was 48-42, Slaton.

The girls dropped behind after holding the visiting sextet to a 13-13 tie during the first period. At halftime, the score was 26-21 with Slaton out in front, and at the end of three, Canyon had dropped eight points back at 39-31.

Kim Killingsworth hit the basket for 19 Eagle points and Sheryl Gunter was in the double number bracket with 16. The other points, 7, were accounted for by Alisha Nelson.

Jan Davis of Slaton was high for the night with her 20.

In rating the guards, Coach Bob Schneider posted a plus-9 for Lynn Davis, a plus-6 for Susan Hull, a plus-5 for Carla Ratliff and plus-3 for both Judy McBroom and Cindy Bullock.

Sheryl Gunter led forwards in the rebounding department with seven and Kim Killingsworth and Alisha Nelson picked off three each.

Rebounds by guards were four each for Susan Hull and Cindy Bullock, three for Lynn Davis and one for Judy McBroom.

Coach Schneider was viewing films of the game and was not available for comment Wednesday morning. Judging from his rating system, the entire team failed to perform at its usual pace.

The girls, defending state champions, now boast a season record of 22-4 and will enter district play Friday night when they travel to Muleshoe.

In an earlier girl's game Tuesday night, the sophomore team also dropped a six-point verdict to Slaton when they fell 28-22.

The game, in which Mary Lisa McBride scored 10 points, was 13-12 at halftime with Slaton holding the slim edge.

Canyon Teams Accepted Into Jr. High League

Canyon junior high school athletic teams have been accepted into the Panhandle Junior High Athletic League, a step that will improve play and provide stiffer opposition, school officials announced early this week.

Coach Bob Sloan, athletic coordinator at Canyon Junior High School, said Canyon's admission into the league was gained last weekend when he and coaches Ron Mills and B. B. Kendrick and principal Dave Corley attended a league meeting in Borger.

"We have been wanting to get into the league for some time but weren't sure we'd make it," said Sloan. Other members of the league are Hereford LaPlata, Hereford Stanton, Borger Red, Borger White, Pampa North, Pampa South and Perryton. Canyon's entries into the league are the White and Purple teams.

The Hereford teams were also accepted during the league meeting held in Borger.

One of the advantages of playing in the league, said Sloan, was that Canyon junior high teams would be playing the same class teams as are met by high school teams.

Another benefit will be that Canyon teams will develop better because of playing against good, strong teams. "It will make better ballplayers . . . you play like your competition," Sloan said.

Beginning with the coming track season, White and Purple teams from the 7th, 8th and 9th grades will compete with other league members for the championship in the sports of football, basketball and track.

Trophies will be awarded the winners of each sport.

According to Sloan, 7th grade teams will be limited to intramural sports during the first half of each season but will then meet league opponents in their zone during the second half. At the end of the season, winners of each of the two zones will meet for the championship.

In the zone with Canyon are the two Hereford teams and Dumas.

Coach Sloan said that because of Canyon's entry into the league, tracksters would be offered six meets this year as compared to only four last year.

The meets and their dates are:

March 17 — Dumas Relays; March 24 — Canyon hosts 7th and 8th graders while Pampa hosts 9th graders; March 31 — Perryton meet; April 7 — AAA District meet involving Canyon, Dumas and Perryton; April 14 — Hereford meet; and April 28 — League meet at Borger.

Speaking of the stepped up competition in track, Sloan said, "This is what we need."

Sloan said Canyon was fortunate to get into the league and he cited it as a part of the great progress the athletic program had made during the year.

The coach added that Canyon teams may not fare too well during its first year in the league but he said tough competition was needed. "That's what makes good play."

Along The Grapevine

By Mary Alice Hines

DID I GET the shock of my life the other day! I was in the News office and they asked me if I wanted to write a column for the paper. So here I am and let me introduce myself. I am Mary Alice Hines and I am a wacky lady. I fell in love with Canyon when I came to college in 1964. Since I married a Canyon boy, Steve Hines, I gladly became an involved citizen of Canyon. Now it is my hometown and I plan to write about it as such.

I HOT-FOOTED it over to the drug store to collect some news. I saw coffee-drinkers Weyman Brown, Avent Lair, Dr. Burwell Southern, and Dr. W. J. Wooten. They put up with my Lois Lane-Roving Reporter routine and gave me a few items.

DR. AND MRS. Wooten recently returned from Red River where they met their son Ronnie and his wife, Karyn, and her family, Dr. and Mrs. Roland Johnson, Jana and Roma, for a weekend of skiing and snowmobiling.

BENNY COOPER TOLD me about the fun weekend the Youth Group from the First Baptist Church had skiing at the Santa Fe Ski Basin. The group of about sixty, including sponsors, stayed at the Glorietta Retreat Camp. The Youth Director of the Church, Steve Garms, coordinated the trip.

OTHERS RECENTLY RETURNED from ski trips to Red River or Angel Fire are the Fred Stokers, the Dan Trews, the Paige Carruths, the Kenneth Laycocks and the Roy Lyles.

CANYON IS LUCKY to have Dr. Ken Crossland, one of its hometown boys, returning to open a dental office here. He and his new bride, Karen, will be living in the Canyon Creek Apts. Ken is anxious to get his new office building up, but the weather has not been cooperating. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crossland.

MIKE AND JOYCE McBroom and their children, Michael and Caley, were home recently. Mike is an Army 1st Lt. with Dental Activities, Meddac, at Fort Carson, Colo. The McBrooms will be leaving Colorado soon to move to Dallas where Mike will be attending Baylor Dental School.

KENNY AND LINDA Conway and daughter, Temple, flew to Idaho Falls, Idaho, to visit his father over the holidays.

SAM AND BETTY Weaver and boys recently returned from a South Texas trip. While in Austin, they visited with a long-time friend, State Supreme Court Justice, Wendall Odom.

CLAIBORN AND CAROL Crain and daughter Crystal have moved to Austin where Claiborn will be press aide to several senators and representatives in the state legislature.

I HAD AN interesting and rather sobering experience last week. I served on a jury here in the District Court with Judge Don Dean presiding. When questioning the jury panel, the defense attorney, Dick Dambold, asked if anyone knew the District Attorney, George Dowlen. I meekly raised my hand and he asked me how well I knew him.

"Well, my husband's family has been friends with his family for probably twenty years and his mother, Cortez, played at our wedding," I answered.

Mr. Dambold gave a little shudder and carried on. However, I reassured him that I could remain impartial. I was glad to accept the responsibility that we all must share to help safeguard our judicial system.

RAY AND VIRGINIA Grimes and family recently returned from a South Texas trip, also. They especially enjoyed the tour of the Alamo in San Antonio and the LBJ Library in Austin.

THAT'S ALL FOR this week and if you ever have any news for me call 655-9978 or 655-7121.

WTSU To Offer New Courses

Does new math boggle your mind? Would you like to see proof that facts in the Old Testament are true? Do the possibilities of the origins of the universe interest you?

A handful of new courses to be offered at West Texas State University will address the above subjects as well as a host of others.

Spring term at the university begins Monday following registration today and Friday.

Among the new courses set for offering:

Mathematics made fun is the object of two new courses offered this spring in the mathematics department.

The courses are of interest to elementary education teachers, parents befuddled by today's new math and people afraid to dabble with numbers.

Elementary School Mathematics I (Math 120) and Elementary School Mathematics II (121) may be taken together or separately, Assistant Professor David N. Patterson said.

The courses utilize a discovery method in which the student is led to make conclusions on his own, Patterson said.

Among the application methods used are questions involving everything from pocket billiards to decoding hypothetical messages from outer space, he added.

What are the origins of the universe? Is there life in outer space? What are some of the philosophical ramifications of experimental data compiled from recent astronomical discoveries?

These and other questions will be explored in Astronomy 290, an introductory course to be offered this spring by the physics department. The class will be conducted at 7 p.m. Tuesdays.

The course will be non-mathematical and geared to the beginning student interested in astronomy, said Dr. Vaughn Nelson, Chairman of the physics department.

The industrial education department will offer a new course this spring in numerical control systems.

The course, Numerical Control Systems or Industrial Education 430, will explore the principles, techniques and applications of computer systems utilized to drive manufacturing machine tools.

Dr. Henry C. Moreland, associate professor of industrial education said the course will be valuable to engineers, technicians, draftsmen and data processing and industrial management personnel.

The political science department will offer a new course this spring in the judicial process.

Government 350 will attempt to give students a basic understanding of how the American judicial process works, Dr. Brent T. Lynch, associate professor of political science, said.

The course, which will be required for those seeking certificates in criminal justice administration, will study the historical development of judicial procedures, the effect of law on politics and of politics on law, and recent problems and developments in court procedure.

For tidy-minded academicians, the modern short story may be a work comprised of under 40,000 words. For those of a less categorical bent, the short story lies somewhere between the poem and the novel.

However one defines it, the short story is a unique literary form. Like a poem, a good short story must make every word count. And like a novel, only more compactly, it must develop character, atmosphere, plot and other elements.

So says Dr. Richard Moseley, assistant professor of English, who will teach a new course this spring in the modern short story (English 363).

The course will trace the development of the short story from the late 19th Century to the present, Moseley says.

Among the major writers to be studied are Anton Chekhov, Thomas Mann, James Joyce, Rudyard Kipling, Joseph Conrad, Franz Kafka, Katherine Mansfield, William Faulkner, Ernest Hemingway, Bernard Malaud and John Barth.

The course will also attempt to define the basic elements of the short story, including the literary devises employed and the basic themes. Students will also study the critical methodology used in reading and analysing short stories.

Recent archeological discoveries used as evidence to confirm Old Testament literature will be the subject of a new course this spring in the Bible department.

The Bible and Archaeology (Bible 208) will be a five-week course taught by Gordon L. Downing, instructor in Bible.

The course will include presentation of slides of the Holy Land taken by Downing.

Among the Biblical sites to be studied are the ancient city of Jericho, the city of David, located under the site of present-day Jerusalem, Sodom, the city destroyed by "fire and brimstone" remains of which were discovered recently when archaeologists pushed back the waters of the Dead Sea, the cities of Megiddo and Schecem and the copper mines of King Solomon.

Casting off Kipling's admonition that "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet," the English department is introducing a new course this spring in the literary classics of Asia.

Comparative literature (English 465), which will encompass the works of China, Japan, and India, is the first of a two-part course, the second of which, dealing with modern European literature, will be offered in the fall.

Teaching both courses, which may be taken separately, is Dr. Charmazel Dudt, assistant professor of English and a native of Allahabad, India.

"It will be much more than a study in aesthetics," Dr. Dudt says of the course, "it will be an introduction to another way of life . . . another mind.

"With our increasing involvement in the East — in Vietnam, in China, in India — it has become imperative that Americans come to understand the Eastern mind. The best way to do this is through their literature."

If the Western mind has trouble grappling with the paradoxes and mysteries of the East where "all is nothing" and "the way up is the way down," it is because the Western mind is trained to separate into categories, while the Eastern mind will unite disparate elements into the One, says Dr. Dudt.

"This is why the title of this course is deceptive," she says. "In the West, academic disciplines are neatly divided into separate fields — literature, art, philosophy and so on — while in the East all of these are inextricable."

For this reason, she adds, the class will be introduced to the religion, philosophy, literature, art, and even the social and political outlook of the East, simply because these "cannot be easily separated."

Among the major works to be studied will be the Bahagavad-Gita and Upanishads, the religious Indian scripts dating as far back as 1,000 B.C.; the dramatic forms of Kabuki and No in Japan, as well as the classic haiku and other poetry of that country, and the Chinese novel, which according to Dr. Dudt, developed separately but at the same time as the modern European novel.

The universality of the literature of East and West lies in their common aims of just telling a good story or parable, and of teaching moral values, she says. But the "lesson" taught through Eastern literature and the one through Western can be strikingly different, she added.

"In the West, the classic hero is one who battles the antagonistic elements of nature, and if he succeeds in his work, he is the hero. If he tries but fails, he is the tragic hero.

"But in the East, the hero is one who strives to come into harmony with nature. Rather than the individual versus the forces around him, the theme is often the individual attempting to fit his human will into the other forces around him."

Local Student On Honor Roll

A Canyon student at Angelo State University, Karen Louise Malzahn, is listed on the dean's honor roll for the fall semester of work at the university.

Miss Malzahn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Malzahn of 1700 Hillcrest Dr., is listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll.

CowBelles Plan To Promote Beef, Will Hold Valentine Ball

By MARY NEAL HENRY

HOORAY FOR THE sunshine! Weather must be for everyone. Just think what a booming business the dead animal service has been doing! And all these livestock men keeping these dead carcasses on ice waiting to be picked up. That's the height of courtesy. The Vets and veterinary medicine should also be doing well. You have to give the other fellow a break sometime.

I'VE BEEN TRYING to find out how much I could make pulling cotton bolls. I've had the offer of having the sack furnished. Ha! Look at it this way, you've beat everyone else to a 1973 cotton crop.

DON CARR, SON-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eubanks, is featured in an article in the January issue of "The Quarter Horse Journal." "The Village Creek Saga" tells the story of Village Creek Ranch, a quarter horse emporium, established in 1957 by Mrs. Bess Fisher, who employed Don Carr as manager-trainer. The ranch has grown from 38 acres, two houses, and one small barn just outside of Ft. Worth to 257 acres, four houses, three barns, a large indoor arena, a large outdoor arena, circular breaking pen and numerous lots, pens and lush pastures. Mildred (Eubank) and Don Carr live on the ranch. They have one son, Jim. Among champion quarter horses or mares that have come from or been associated with Village Creek Ranch are Miss Eagle 97, Bell Mat, Poco Pat (an own son of Poco Bueno), King Windy, and the famous War Leo. Recently, the racing horses of Village Creek Ranch have also taken spotlights. Found Worthy set a new track record first time out at Sunland Park. Village Creek Ranch indulges in all phases of the Quarter Horse Program and are excelling in all fields.

PHYLLIS, MELVIN AND Chris Bradley, now of Gruver, spent the first weekend of this year in Red River skiing for three glorious days.

THE HAPPY COWBELLES met Wednesday morning of last week with LaNelle Todd. Bernice Hamblen was co-hostess and baked some delicious cakes, which they served with spiced tea or coffee. Vivian Woods called the meeting to order. Plans were made to try to attend the National CowBelle Convention in San Antonio during January 24th through 27th. Delores Wilhelm read the by-laws and the adoption of them was tabled until the next meeting.

THE HAPPY COWBELLES will have a Valentine '42' Party for their husbands at the next meeting. Bernice Hamblen and Vivian Woods gave a report on having helped Mt. Pleasant to organize a CowBelle organization. The state pins were discussed and everyone was interested in owning one. An itinerary of meeting places was filled out for this whole year. A great big thanks to the Happy Feedlot and John Butler for copying and compiling our by-laws in such nice booklets. We do appreciate it.

SOME TYPE OF table advertisement for beef will be placed in local cafes (with their permission, of course) for beef promotion this month. CowBelles present were: LaNelle Todd, Bernice Hamblen, Nora Taylor, Mary Jane Miller, Joyce Wheat, Willie Butler, Vivian Wesley, Joan Odom, Delores Wilhelm, Jo Hand, Vera Eubanks, Mary Wilhelm, Pat Hargrave, Judy Thompson, Faye Parker, Linda McDonald, Billie Pearson, Betty Tipps, and myself.

BILLIE PEARSON PRESENTED the program, "Why CowBelles?" Want me to answer that?

Eddie Joe Pearson took Grand Champion calf honors at the Happy Junior Livestock Show held Friday afternoon with this entry. The young stockman also won first place in Calf Showmanship.

THE HAPPY ARTISTS Club met Friday night. V. M. Rippey, of Amarillo, demonstrated the art of using gold leaf. Mr. Rippey is 78 years young and has been painting signs since he was 14. The program was excellent. Present were Zelma Selvidge, Gay Fellers, Joy Cox, Ernestine Danner, Mary Womack, Carolyn Kimbrell, Kathy Moudy, Eddie Wilson, Ollie Nichols, and Phyla Harman.

BECKY MCCARLEY PULLED a ligament in her ankle or foot on Friday night in Amarillo at the Freshmen Tournament. They beat Hartley though.

THE FRESHMEN GIRLS won the tournament at Grace Christian in Amarillo last weekend. They walked off with first place trophy and Pam Tatum, Linda Railsback, and Amy Wallace made the all-tournament team!

HAPPY IS TO have a Freshmen Tournament this weekend.

HAPPY COWBOYS BEAT Lazbuddie 56 to 26 last week, but the girls lost 44 to 53.

MONDAY NIGHT THE Junior High Cowboys won over Amherst 18 to 15. Cowgirls lost 22 to 21.

MARY JO GRIFFIN was among the spectators. That didn't add up until she told me that she went to school at Amherst. She didn't want to admit it during football season. Ha! But the truth comes out now. She visited with lots of friends and even teachers who were still at Amherst. Mary Jo also writes a column for the Canyon News. Friends such as Mary Jo are one of the fringe benefits of being a columnist. The F. E. Leslies, who used to live just north of Happy, live in the same area between Canyon and Amarillo in which Mary Jo lives. Come back soon, Mary Jo. (Found out that I played basketball against Mary Jo).

BURL SIMS AND Foster Harman traveled to Albuquerque on Saturday to bring Buck McCarley home. Buck will be home for quite awhile this time and return for a check-up sometime in the future. Welcome home, Buck.

THE HAPPY JUNIOR Fat Stock Show for 1973 is history and quite well covered complete with pictures in The Canyon Sunday News. Chris Pearson is pictured with his lamb. Eddie Joe Pearson showed the Grand Champion Steer and Ronnie McDonald the Reserve Champion. The steers were judged outside in a large pen made of steel panels. There was no wind and even though snow and ice covered the ground, it was most pleasant.

STUART TACKITT SHOWED the Grand Champion Pig of the show, a Duroc. J. Horace McCarley showed the Reserve Champion Pig of the show which was the Reserve Champion of the Duroc class. The judge, Bob Skaggs of Pampa, stated that he had had a lot of trouble separating the two pigs in the show and that he was going to the second place duroc for the Reserve Champion of the show.

CHRIS PEARSON SHOWED the Grand Champion lamb and Andy Butler, the Reserve Champion lamb.

KEN HENRY RECEIVED the plaque for neatest swine exhibit. This was given not just for the appearance of the pen in all this terrible weather, but also for help given in getting ready for the stock show. We were most pleased to see hard work rewarded. Pat Sims received the plaque for neatest beef exhibit and Freddy Briscoe for the sheep exhibit. That hard work will take you far, boys. The best helping hand that you will ever find is at the end of your own arm. Keith Dietz received the award for the Outstanding First Year Exhibit.

STUART TACKITT RECEIVED a plaque for showmanship in the swine division. Mark Hargrave received a ribbon for second and Gary Barrett, a ribbon for third. Chris Pearson received a plaque for sheep showmanship and Alan Fowler and Andy Butler, ribbons for second and third place respectively. Eddie Joe Pearson received a plaque for calf showmanship and Rocky Williams, a ribbon for second place. J. Horace McCarley received a ribbon for third. Congratulations to all these special awards. Trophies were furnished by Happy Wheat Growers, ribbons by Case Power and Equipment and Harman-Toles. Plaques were furnished by Bill McCarley, Wallace Motor Company and First State Bank, Happy Elevator Company and Taylor-Evans Farm Store.

JIM HAND, CHRIS Pearson, and Don Lee made the All-State Football Team. Congratulations! Yes, that Jim Hand does think football. What other senior do you know that got a football game for Christmas? Not one that entertains you, but one that you figure out the play and the moves and well, that's Jim. He finds the game fascinating. The college that gets him will be a lucky one. Chris Pearson is probably tough because he has two older brothers. One brother is enough, but a little guy with two usually equals boot leather by the time he is a toddler. Kids are made of strong stuff or they'd never make it to first grade.

BOB HARGRAVE'S FEATURE story from The Canyon News also appeared in the Lubbock paper.

LARRY TACKITT JUDGED the Junior Livestock Show in Stratford last Friday. A picture and feature article about Larry appeared in a Monday daily paper.

BROTHER AND MRS. Preston Beeks became the parents of another girl Sunday morning at 8:36 at Neblett Hospital. Carolyn Deann weighed in at seven pounds and seven ounces. I didn't find out if Preston made it back to Wayside in time to preach on Sunday morning.

HOSTESSES FOR KATHY Allen and Gerald Mayes' bridal shower met with Mary Jane Miller on Monday for the planning session. The bridal shower will be on Saturday, Jan. 27. Kathy and Gerald plan to have a small family wedding in the Baptist Church at Happy on January 19.

BILLY DALE ANDREWS left Tuesday for the Air Force and San Antonio. Billy Dale's grades at Tech for his first semester were 2. something and he was most pleased. He just decided he'd go to the service and come back and then attend school.

BOB AND LINDA McDonald and their Ronnie and David recently took Mr. and Mrs. O. K. McDonald to Houston to visit relatives. They stayed in Joe McDonald's town house and country home.

SID PAYNE OF Tulia, Travis Payne's father, fell and broke his hip last week. He underwent surgery at Northwest Texas Hospital this week to have a pin put in the hip.

TOM PAYNE WAS scheduled to have two ribs removed last Tuesday at High Plains Hospital. Tom has too many ribs and they believed this to be the reason that Tom has poor circulation in his arms. The doctor planned to keep him only a few days. He may be home soon after you read this.

NAN EARYLE AND Robert Geauthreaux and their Patricia, Nan, Tonya, and Jerry Doyle were honored with a dinner at Inez and Hollis Shipman's on Sunday. It was also Tonya's eighth birthday and they celebrated with birthday cake and all the trimmings. The whole family was present. . . Gene and Judy and their Raphe and Mandi, and Lillie and Jerry Shipman of Hereford, and Mrs. Lizzie Wesley, Ira and LaMoine Schrib dropped by during the afternoon, and so did Camilla and C. J. Greenfield with their Cari, Shelley and Andy, and Bonnie and Wilma Briscoe. The Geauthreauxs left this week for Altus, Okla. where Bob is currently stationed. They had several farewell parties in the last few weeks. Angelique already misses Tonya.

BOB LEE MADE "Who's Who in America" recently. Good going, Bob!!

MRS. FRANCES FLOWERS passed away late Saturday afternoon in Neblett Hospital in Canyon after an illness. She was 36 years old. Frances was a native of Charleston, Ark. She moved here eleven years ago. She was a school teacher, a member of the First Baptist Church at Happy and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star. She was an only child of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fitzgerald who now reside in Fort Smith, Ark. Frances was an extraordinary person. She had a sweet disposition and was an outstanding worker among the young and adult people of our church. We'll all miss her.

Happy Soldier At Fort Ord

Army Private Ruben Garcia, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lupe H. Garcia, Happy, Tex., is assigned to Ft. Ord, Calif., where he is training under the modern volunteer army program.

The program combines basic and advanced individual training (AIT) into an average 16-week program, depending on the AIT the soldier receives after completing basic. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections give the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time. Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the program.

Pvt. Garcia began his training with Company C, 2nd Battalion of the 2nd Brigade on Oct. 30 and is scheduled to complete the first phase on Jan. 9.

He is a 1972 graduate of Happy High School.

Happy Teams Take Two From Amherst

The Happy basketball teams swept a pair of district games from Amherst Tuesday night, the boys winning 38-31 and the girls coming through 44-42.

The Cowboys got off to a quick lead and held on despite playing what coach Gerald Weeks called "just good enough to win."

After leading 12-8 at the end of the first quarter, the Cowboys took a 22-17 halftime lead into the dressing room.

Greg Looney topped Happy scoring with 14 points, and Stuart and Lonnie Tackitt each came away with eight. Johnny Payne tipped in six points and Tim Neil tallied two.

Steven Thompson of Amherst also scored 14 points.

According to coach Weeks, his boys "didn't play a real good game" and were especially weak on defense. "And we missed a lot of easy shots," he added.

The Cowboys, with a 6-7 season record and 3-1 in district play, are tied with Cotton Center for second spot in the league. Spade, the team picked to win the 5-B District crown, will invade Happy Friday night for a shot at the Cowboys.

The Cowgirls didn't have it quite so easy as they found themselves behind often throughout the game before winning by a two-point margin.

They trailed 16-14 at the end of the first period and were tied 24-24 at halftime. At the end of the third quarter Amherst was leading 38-30 but Happy outplayed them 14-4 during the final stanza to cop the win.

Becky Via led the Cowgirls with 22 points and Brenda Dietz racked up 12. Pam Shipman, normally up around the 20 point mark, managed to score only 10 points against Amherst.

According to coach Leslie Lee, guards Sandy Railsback, Barbara Dowd and Amy Wallace turned in outstanding performances.

The Cowgirls now have a 4-10 season record and stand 1-3 in district play. They also meet Spade at home Friday night.

In a preliminary game Tuesday night, the Happy B team girls lost to Amherst 38-45 with Pam Tatum walking away with 32 points.

Happy Jaycees To Have Supper

Happy's Jaycees are sponsoring a barbecue supper Saturday night in appreciation for the support they have received during the past year from the businesses and individuals of Happy.

The dinner will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Jaycee Hall.

EULA AND T. J. Bonds were injured last Friday when they were hit from behind as they were about to make a left hand turn from the highway onto the main street of Happy. T. J. spent a few nights in Neblett Hospital after having to have fourteen stitches to sew up the cut in his head, but Eula is still there as of Tuesday. Eula has a broken collar bone and broken rib. This is the second time that Eula and T. J. have been involved in an accident at this same intersection and this was the second accident that had taken place LAST WEEK in this same intersection. We need more safety. How? I don't know. Someone with all that engineering intelligence figure it out, and let's have some action!

DONNA MCDONALD WENT to Dalhart with the Canyon group to play in the All-Region Band on Saturday night. Donna was eighth chair clarinet. Congratulations, Donna!

DONNA MCDONALD HAD surgery on Wednesday to remove a growth from her left sinus passage. This is Donna's second such operation. We wish her well. She is in St. Anthony's Hospital.

JANICE SHIPMAN AND Jesse (pronounced Jess) Walton were married on Saturday night at the First Baptist Church in Happy. She looked so very pretty and so did Pam and her roommate who attended her. There was a nice crowd considering the weather. After the reception Janice changed and we threw the wheat (instead of rice) and no one followed them. I think in icy weather like that, it was a blessing. No accidents, no bent fenders, etc. . . etc. . . .

BETTY STOCKETT WAS honored with a pink and blue shower on Monday afternoon at Wayside in the home of Estelle and Red Rogers. Hostesses were Dottie Foster, Skip Simons and Suzette Wesley. Dottie had originally planned to have the shower but because of the muddy roads, the location had to be changed. After all were present, Skip brought Betty down in the guise of having to go to Wayside to get some gas (they were on their way to town) and was she ever surprised. James had even been so willing to keep the girls. Two games were played. Jeanetta McNeill won making words from the word "bassinet." Everyone picked out names for the coming little one that began with the letters "Baby John." Not too many of us were much help.

THE TABLE WAS adorned in a lace cloth and centered with pink candle and flower ring and two baby doll beds which the hostesses had made. These were for Jacinda and Jena Stockett and the tiny baby dolls to go in them were wrapped also ready to give to the big sisters. Hot punch and coffee and white cakes decorated with pink and blue baby rattlers were served along with favors of diapers filled with mints and nuts to Dorothy Stockett, Doris Stockett, Nita Hooper, Beth Simpson, Doretta Anderson, Pauline Wesley, Mary Neal Henry, Jeanne Johnson, Lila Vick, Jeanetta McNeill, Susan Rahlfs, Kaye Venhaus, Estelle Rogers, Chris Ritter, LaVenna Jackson, and the hostesses. Also sending gifts were Judy Shipman, Lucille McKinney, Aline Watson, Joy Freeman, Sara Tirey and Bernice Hamblen.

DAN TRUE SPOKE to the Woman's Study Club on Tuesday. Joan Odom as program chairman asked Dan True to speak on the eagle. Roll call was answered with "A Fact About a Migratory Bird." Joyce Railsback was the hostess for the day and held the meeting at the First Baptist Church. Jesse Francy was co-hostess. Mildred Devin, vice president, presided in the absence of Joan McDonald.

ANOTHER WEEK OF stock shows, ball games, etc. Anyone bored?

See ya,
Mary Neal

council appeared to favor the proposal.

"This project is not intended to be a dissertation on county government, which would be of interest to only a few," Shelly said, "but rather information which would be of interest to many."

Emphasis on the brochure would be on those offices and functions of county government which have tended to serve the greatest needs of the people.

"On the basis of my study of public opinion and the teaching of state and local government in Texas, it is my judgement that a need exists for a pamphlet on county government," Shelly said. "There is a need to make the citizen more aware of the county as a unit of government, as well as its usefulness in daily life."

Shelly said the pamphlet would be written in a clear manner directed for the average citizen.

"This pamphlet would enable the citizen to better understand his county government and it would place him in a better position to recognize and appreciate the county as a unit of government," he said.

Shelly tentatively plans to include in the pamphlet explanations about the legal status of the county, the structure and functions of various portions of county government, financing of county government and expenditures at the county level.

"It is unrealistic to think that a citizen is going to read a text book on county government or the Texas Commissioners Guide Book," he said. "These are too specialized for the average citizen. However, something should be available which would serve the purpose of providing some basic information about the county.

"For example, how many citizens know where to go if they have a criminal complaint or know how the small claims court could be of service to them?"

Shelly said the pamphlet would also help county officials respond to questions from the public.

County Judge Woody Pond, who has aided Shelly in his quest for funding of the project, agrees that the pamphlet is a good idea.

"I've always wanted something like this," he said.

Pond said such a pamphlet would be useful when county officials give speeches.

Another addition to the court's procedure now is that warrants are issued for the arrest of those who fail to appear in traffic cases. Hampton said the revenue gained from this new practice has proved to be well worth the time and effort.

In regard to court fees collected, Hampton said he felt that he should not be too concerned about how much income the court was responsible for. "If we're running $1,000 behind I don't want to catch the next guy coming in the door and catch up," the judge added.

Hampton added that provisions have been made for motorists ticketed while passing through Canyon to mail fines in at a later date.

The judge also said most trials in city traffic court were held without a jury unless the defendant requested otherwise. "This speeds up the court and is cheaper too," Hampton said.

According to city manager George Loudder, money collected through the present court system is running about 15 to 20 per cent ahead of the previous period.

One innovation used by Judge Hampton in warranted cases has been the sentencing of young first-time traffic offenders to wash police cars or help in one of the city offices. Hampton said this was done only with first-time violators who had not been involved in serious accidents or not found to be guilty of a serious traffic offense.

An example of the unique sentencing was brought out by Hampton when he told of young drivers with new licenses not being accompanied by an adult as required by their license. "They are often caught with a 20-year-old companion," he said.

The judge said the system also offered some side benefits and he cited one instance when a young man sentenced to wash police cars later admitted that policemen "weren't so bad to be around."

"It's real fine," said one commissioner. "It's good, common sense."

Elton Cox, city attorney, told the commissioners that he had experienced "a very pleasant relationship" during the time since Hampton was first appointed to the court. "It's run like a court," Cox added.

The city attorney said that the court is running "real smoothly" and that he has not recently heard any derogative comments from lawyers.

According to Cox, the court does have acquittals. He noted that persons may enter pleas of not guilty, adding, "That's the way it should be."

Mayor J. Manly Bryan concluded the report session by telling Hampton, "That's a real good job. We appreciate it."

He estimated around 140 miles of county road are damaged by the winter storms and need repair.

Commissioners expressed their appreciation to West and his road crews for their efforts at clearing county roads of snow during the last siege recently.

Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson, who is in chage of courthouse maintenance, told commissioners they face a major repair bill on the courthouse elevator.

Wilson said the elevator, which is located in the new northern portion of the courthouse, has developed a leak in the hydraulic system.

Exact location of the leak has not been determined, he said, but if the worst is expected, the county could pay as much as $3,000 for the repairs.

Following Monday's meeting, commissioners toured the county jail, along with Sheriff Cliff Longest and deputies Merle Strickland and Harold Hooks.

Commissioners commended Strickland and Hooks for the cleanliness of the jail facility.

the board of the Amarillo Business and Professional Women Club. She has been named an outstanding professional woman by the latter organization.

Mrs. Hefley is currently on the board of the Amarillo Association of Life Underwriters, insurance agent professional organization, and is assistant secretary of the Potter-Randall Heart Association.

She is currently seeking her Certified Life Underwriter certificate through courses at West Texas State University.

Mrs. Hefley and her husband, Dub, have two children, Alexis, who is in the 8th grade at Canyon Junior High School, and Jodi, who is a senior at Canyon High.

Kent is in his fourth year at WTSU as tennis coach and instructor of physical education.

Two years ago, his team won the Missouri Valley Conference championship, the first sports team at the university to win that honor since WTSU joined the conference several years ago.

Kent is a native of Amarillo and attended Amarillo High School. He later returned to his alma mater to teach and coach in 1958 and 1959.

He received his master of education degree in 1969 from WTSU.

Kent has taught nine years at Midland High School. He serves on the boards of several statewide organizations.

"There will certainly be challenging and new problems that will have to be solved in the upcoming school years," Kent said. "Only with qualified and dynamic leadership can we expect to meet and solve these questions.

"Being one who has been involved in public education as a classroom teacher for eleven years, and one who has had practical business experience, I firmly believe that I can make a contribution to the Canyon Independent School District.

"Our local school system is currently one of the finest in the state and every effort must be made to maintain and even improve on this standard.

"Being an employee of West Texas State University and one who has many acquaintances in all sections of this school district, I would be in an excellent position to represent the total community.

"If elected, I do not proclaim to have any magic school formulas, but I would make a strong concentrated effort to see that our children and teachers work in the best possible learning atmosphere."

Kent and his wife, Eileen, have three children, Tanya, a sophomore at CHS, Todd, a 7th grader at CJHS, and Trey, a 3rd grader at Rex Reeves.

The terms sought for the school board this year are for three years.

better attitude."

Thompson said merchants at the meeting "realized that we can work together and that we have a common goal to keep Canyon business in Canyon."

He is confident that sooner or later the goal of merchant unity will be achieved through the committee.

"I'm optimistic after the meeting," he said. "At least we're getting something started that we've never had before."

Thompson said the main function of the committee will be to come up with, plan and carry out promotions which will benefit every merchant in town.

"We want to show people we really have something to offer," he said. "We're going to promote hometown shopping, inviting people to shop in Canyon because of the hometown atmosphere."

22, 1972, but it was not discovered until May 5, 1972 . . ."

The suit alleges that the insurance company is liable to pay all of the medical expenses involved even though the medical services did not begin until 60 days following the receipt of the injury.

"More than 30 days prior to the filing of this petition, the plaintiffs made due written demand upon the defendant to pay for the medical expenses . . . but the defendant refused and failed to pay for said sum . . .," the suit says.

"Texas" Float In Inaugural Parade

The musical production "TEXAS" was honored this year by being the first float following Gov. Briscoe's entourage in the inauguration parade staged in Austin on Tuesday. Participation was by invitation from the Governor's office.

Mrs. Margaret Harper of the "TEXAS" staff said that the float was probably chosen because it displayed the six flags of Texas and played music from the "TEXAS" production.

Two young cast members from Canyon, Gene Morrison and Rick Wilson, traveled to Austin to decorate the float.

Jacobs told the board that the entire system serves an average of 1,662 meals per day, with expenditures of $71,000 so far this year. "That's big business," he added.

The superintendent told the group that he was "pleased with our overall cafeteria operation" and he and Schultz credited the women who run them with making them function effeciently.

In regard to the possible need for liability insurance to protect board members against law suits arising from things that they might do while operating the school system, Cary Magness issued a report on his search for adequate coverage.

Magness, a Canyon insurance man, told the board that he had "quotes" on two policies but had not been able to determine if either was adequate. He also told the board that in the state, law suits had never resulted in judgments against board members, but he cited the high cost of defending the suit.

Magness also offered the board several letters from attorneys throughout the state which threw doubt on the advisability of accepting one of the policies.

The board took no action pending further investigation of the insurance picture.

Jacobs also offered for inspection four possible school calendars for the 1973-74 school year. According to Jacobs, the school system will operate on the quarter system, with three 60-day quarters replacing the current two semester plan.

One of the four calendars offered by the superintendent is expected to be adopted.

government.

Then, the judge presented a corsage to Mrs. Dowlen, who brought a bit of levity to the occasion by insisting that she — and not her husband — pin the corsage on her dress.

"Mrs. Dowlen, we certainly do appreciate you, too," Pond said, and everyone in the courtroom stood in ovation for the Dowlens.

Marion Bruce, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, presented a gift to Dowlen, as did outside auditor Bob Davis.

Following a brief speech by his wife, Dowlen addressed the audience.

"It's been a real easy job with all the people I've had to work with," he said. "I can't tell you how much I appreciate all of you coming out this morning."
